Gratuities / Tipping

Land

Gratuities are not included in the package price for additional services. In the United States, it is customary to tip at restaurants, cafes, and diners, as well as for services provided by taxi drivers (excluding Uber), valet attendants, porters, and hotel housekeeping staff. A general guideline is 15%–20% of the total bill at dining venues, while tips for service staff are left to your personal discretion. Some sit-down restaurants may automatically add a gratuity to your bill—if this occurs, no additional tip is necessary unless you wish to recognise exceptional service.

Please note: Tipping is always at your discretion. However, it is considered a standard part of income for many service workers in the U.S., and it is not uncommon for staff to request a tip. There is no need to feel uncomfortable in these situations.

While we do not add frequent flyer member details to bookings, you can do this directly with the airline once you have your flight information.

Dietary Requests

Meal options and availability differ between airlines and routes therefore not all dietary requests can be accommodated. If your flight includes meals we will select the most suitable option available based on the dietary requirements you have specified. All meal requests are subject to airline approval and are not guaranteed, therefore we recommend preparing for your flight by bringing appropriate food for yourself, as required.

Although some assistance may be available, every traveller should be self-reliant during all aspects of their travel.

Visas

United States

If you're visiting for less than 90 days, you may be eligible to apply for an Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) and enter the US under the Visa Waiver Program (VWP). If not, you'll need to get a visa before you travel. Whether you're travelling on a visa or under the VWP, ensure that you understand all relevant terms and conditions before attempting to enter the US. An approved ESTA or valid visa doesn't guarantee entry to the United States. US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officials at the port of entry will determine your eligibility. For information on ESTA eligibility or to apply, please visit https://esta.cbp.dhs.gov/esta/.

Please note: Due to recent changes in the USA Immigration policies, TripADeal recommends all travellers visit US Customs & Border Protection.

Important:

- Please start arranging your visa three weeks before departure to account for any delays due to consulate operating hours.
- Visa rules are subject to change. Please check with the nearest embassy, consulate or immigration department of the destination/s you are visiting once you receive your travel documentation to ensure you have the most up to date information.
- It is your responsibility to be travel-ready and ensure that you are aware and comply with any destination or travel requirements, including the validity of all required travel documents.
- Passengers who are not Australian citizens must also check with the respective consulate or visa agency to determine what their visa requirements are and what personal identification is required.
- It is also important to note that some areas of employment, such as journalism, government authorities and charity organisations, may have additional restrictions in applying for visas. This may, in turn, affect the type of application required.

Travel Insurance

Embarking on your next trip is exciting, and while you hope the unexpected does not happen, it is best to be prepared. We strongly recommend you take out travel insurance when making your booking. Whether it's a potential medical emergency, a flight cancellation, a delayed suitcase, or an unforeseen event, it's important to ensure you're adequately protected.
