The Itinerary

Day 1 Australia (or New Zealand) – Beijing, China

Being the capital of the People's Republic of China, Beijing is the nation's political, economic and cultural centre. Located in north China, close to the port city of Tianjin and partially surrounded by Hebei Province, it also serves as the most important transportation hub and port of entry. As one of the six ancient cities in China, Beijing has been the heart and soul of politics throughout its long history and consequently, there is an unparalleled wealth of discovery to delight and intrigue travellers as they explore the city's ancient past and exciting modern development. Now it has become one of the most popular travel destinations in the world with about 140 million Chinese tourists and 4.4 million international visitors in a year.

Please note:

- Some travellers may depart on Day 0.
- Some travellers may have an overnight layover in China with accommodation and transfers provided by the airline.
- Some travellers may have an overnight layover in an Australian city with airport accommodation provided (excluding transfers).
- Some travellers may arrive early in the morning of Day 2.

Overnight: Beijing Meida Hotel or similar
Meals included: In-Flight

Day 2 Tiananmen Square & Forbidden City (or Temple of Heaven)

After breakfast, your exploration of Beijing begins with a visit to a pearl factory where you can learn about cultivating fresh pearls. You'll then visit Tiananmen Square, one of the largest public squares in the world, before stopping by the Imperial Palace in the Forbidden City. The Forbidden City, known officially as the Imperial Palace Museum, was originally constructed by the third Emperor of the Ming Dynasty, Yong Le Emperor Zhu Di, in the early 15th century. The palace was built between 1406 and 1420 but has been burnt down, rebuilt, sacked and renovated countless times so most of the architecture you can see today dates from the 1700s onwards.

Optional Tour: Summer Palace and Beijing Zoo with Dinner

Take a trip to the majestic Summer Palace, a beautiful UNESCO World Heritage site and a masterpiece of Chinese landscape garden design. The natural landscape of hills and open water is combined with artificial features such as pavilions, halls, palaces, temples and bridges to form a harmonious ensemble of outstanding aesthetic value.

Then head to the Panda House, the crown jewel of Beijing Zoo. Since the successful captive breeding of the first giant panda in 1963, and the world's first successful artificial insemination in 1978, the zoo has been at the forefront of panda conservation.

Finish with a delicious dinner experience that will allow you to savour authentic regional flavours.

Not included, paid on tour. Please see current pricing in Important Information.

The Itinerary

Please note:

- There is a daily limit on the number of tickets available for The Forbidden City, therefore entry cannot be guaranteed and is subject to availability. In the event that tickets can not be secured, a visit to The Temple of Heaven will be offered instead.
- The Temple of Heaven, founded in the first half of the 15th century, is a dignified complex of fine cult buildings that are set in gardens and surrounded by historic pine woods. In its overall layout, it symbolises the relationship between earth and heaven which stands at the heart of Chinese cosmogony and also recognises the special role played by the emperors within that relationship.
- Scheduling of attractions and activities may be alternated for the days in Beijing (Days 2 to 4).

Overnight: Beijing Meida Hotel or similar
Meals included: Breakfast

Day 3 Great Wall of China

After breakfast, you'll travel to a jade museum to learn about the history of jade and observe skilled artisans at work as they create their intricate designs. In Chinese, jade is pronounced as “Yu” and has a history of at least four thousand years in China.

You'll then take a scenic drive through the countryside and mountains to reach China’s most renowned monument, the Great Wall. Along the way, you'll enjoy stopping for a delicious Peking Duck lunch which is one of Beijing's most famous dishes (vegetarian options will be available also). On arrival at the Great Wall, you'll visit the less-touristy and more original Juyong Pass, avoiding other sections that are the most accessible and consequently, the most crowded. The Great Wall meanders through China’s northern mountain ranges from the Yellow Sea to the Gobi Desert, a distance of more than 5,600 kilometres.

Optional Tour: Hutong Pedicab Tour & Dinner

In the afternoon, take the opportunity to join an optional tour of Beijing’s 700-year-old Hutongs area by old-fashioned pedicab. You will also visit a local family to experience the local customs and enjoy a delicious home-cooked dinner. The optional tour also includes visiting Shichahai, a historic scenic area consisting of three lakes (Qianhai, Houhai and Xihai) which surround places of historic interest, scenic beauty and remnants of old-style hutong and courtyard local residences. Paid on tour. Please see current pricing in Important Information.

Please note:

- Scheduling of attractions and activities may be alternated for the days in Beijing (Days 2 to 4).
- The old-fashioned pedicab operation may be suspended without prior notice and a replacement optional tour will be offered.

Day 4 Beijing – Xi'an (High-Speed Train Experience)

After breakfast this morning, you'll make a stop at a traditional Chinese health centre where you’ll learn about acupuncture, herbal medicine, and other wellness practices integral to Traditional Chinese Medicine. Afterwards, you'll travel by high-speed train (or domestic flight) to Xian where, upon arrival, a tour representative will meet you to escort you to the hotel.

The Itinerary

Xi'an, located in central-northwest China, records the great changes of the country just like a living history book. Called Chang'an (the eternal city) in ancient times, it is one of the birthplaces of the ancient Chinese civilization in the Yellow River Basin area. As the eastern terminal of the Silk Road and the site of the famous Terracotta Warriors of the Qin Dynasty, the city has a reputation worldwide. More than 3,000 years of history, including over 1,100 years as the capital city of ancient dynasties, have endowed the city with an amazing historical heritage.

Please note:

- If travelling from different cities but on the same order, you may travel on a different domestic flight/train to your travel partner due to the way your international airfares are ticketed. You will still be travelling on the same coach group for all other components of the tour.
- High-speed train tickets are subject to availability, and if train tickets are unavailable a domestic flight will be provided in place of this. Train and/or domestic flight tickets will be distributed by your tour guide on arrival in China and in some cases you may find a domestic flight within China included in your attached international flight ticket.
- If you do not provide your passport details at least 60 days prior to departure, you may not be in the same train carriage or on the same train as your companions and other group members.

This site is among the top archaeological excavations of the 20th century so you're sure to be amazed by the scale of the Terracotta Warriors Army. turquoise river passing over the beautiful terraced valley, forming four large colourful lakes and dozens of miniature whitewater waterfalls.

All year round, snow falls on the peaks which are frequently lost in clouds and fog. Looking from a distance, the mountain resembles a Jade Dragon, which is how it got its name.

Scenes from the film come to mind when the peaks are caught in the right light or when the early morning mountain mist rolls in around them.

Other Important Information

TOUR GUIDE VS. TOUR LEADER

Tour Guide

Often locals with intimate knowledge of an area, its culture, and history. Their role entails providing commentary, routing the tour, and seeing that people have a good time. They are a licensed, qualified expert who supplies specific information on the history, art, architecture and culture of the city/village/attraction where they are guiding the tour. The guide meets the group at the required place and leaves it at the end of the tour; they do not travel with the group.

Tour Leader

An experienced person tasked with ensuring the smooth operation of tours, as well as providing practical support to passengers throughout the whole trip. Their role primarily includes assisting with accommodation, transportation between locations, and communication with tour guides at each stop. A tour leader may provide general guidance around a city or village and offer information on the place visited on the bus. However, they are not required to have specific art, architecture, or historical knowledge. They are not allowed to provide a guided tour or commentary of a city/village/attraction once there and, if caught doing so, can be fined.

Please note: Tour leaders/guides are not a standard inclusion in all travel offers. Tour leaders/guides will only be made available when required to enhance the experience of the destination featured.

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Beijing

Beijing, the capital city of China, experiences a continental climate with four distinct seasons. Here's a breakdown of the climate in Beijing:

- Summer (June to August): Summers in Beijing are hot and humid, with temperatures often exceeding 30°C. July is the hottest month, with temperatures occasionally rising above 35°C. Thunderstorms are common during the summer months, bringing brief relief from the heat but also occasional heavy rainfall.
- Autumn (September to November): Autumn is one of the most pleasant seasons in Beijing, characterized by mild temperatures and clear skies. September can still be warm, but temperatures gradually decrease as the season progresses. This season is popular for tourism due to the comfortable weather and the colourful foliage.
- Winter (December to February): Winters in Beijing are cold and dry, with temperatures often dropping below freezing. December and January are the coldest months, with daytime temperatures averaging between -3°C to 4°C. Nighttime temperatures can drop well below freezing, reaching as low as -10°C or lower.
- Spring (March to May): Spring in Beijing is relatively short but marked by fluctuating temperatures and occasional dust storms. March can still be chilly, but temperatures gradually warm up by May. Spring is also a season of increased rainfall, which helps alleviate dry conditions but can also lead to occasional flooding. Beijing's climate is influenced by its inland location and surrounding mountains, which can result in temperature extremes between seasons. Additionally, air pollution, especially during the winter months, can be a concern in Beijing due to factors such as coal burning for heating and industrial emissions.

- Winter (December to February): Winters are cold and dry, with occasional snowfall. December and January are the coldest months, with temperatures often dropping below freezing, especially at night. Daytime temperatures typically range from 0°C to 8°C, while nighttime temperatures can drop to around -10°C.

Important Information

- Summer (June to August): Summers in Lijiang are warm and rainy, with temperatures ranging from 15°C to 25°C on average. July and August are the wettest months, with frequent afternoon showers and occasional thunderstorms. Despite the rainfall, humidity levels are relatively low compared to other regions in China.
- Autumn (September to November): Autumn is generally considered the best time to visit Lijiang, with mild temperatures and clear skies. Temperatures gradually cool down from the summer highs, ranging from 10°C to 20°C on average. September marks the transition from the rainy season to drier conditions.

The city's diverse geography also contributes to variations in climate across different areas, with lower elevations experiencing warmer temperatures than higher-altitude regions.

Gratuities/Tipping

Important Information

Land

Tipping is a firm and customary element of the tourism industry and is therefore expected. The expected tipping amount is $12 AUD or 60 RMB per person per day. While tipping is not mandatory, it is a common practice in China and a gesture of appreciation which is shared amongst the local guides, drivers and other staff members who have serviced your tour. The tipping amount can be paid in AUD or RMB to your expert tour guide in each region. As most tour guides in China consider tipping a part of their income, please don't feel intimidated should the tour guides approach you as they bid you farewell.

Yangtze Cruise

Gratuities (tips) are not included for the cruise staff's services throughout this tour's cruise component. Gratuities are expected on your cruise and will be charged 150 RMB total for the 4-night cruise. If you have any questions regarding the gratuities on your cruise, please speak to the guest services staff onboard the ship.

Sightseeing

Please note: If entry to a site is affected by changes in operating hours or public holiday closures, your itinerary, where possible, may be adjusted, or a similar activity will be offered in its place (subject to availability).

Shopping

Shopping overseas can be a daunting and confusing experience, especially when there is a language barrier. Please be very cautious when foreign currencies and prices are involved. If paying by credit card, please pay close attention to the amount you are being charged and keep all your receipts. Do not make any purchases you are not comfortable with or feel pressured into. If you are uncertain or need assistance with the language barrier, please seek assistance from your Tour Guide/Leader. Please refer to our Terms and Conditions regarding shopping for further information.

Chinese Citizens

All Chinese passport holders are required to provide a clear copy or scan of their Chinese Resident Identity Card at least 4 weeks prior to departure. Additionally, you must carry your physical Resident Identity Card with you during your travels, in addition to your passport. It is important to note that certain major sites, such as The Forbidden City, strictly require a Chinese Resident Identity Card for all Chinese citizens in order to book tickets. Please be aware that if this ID is not provided in time, you may be unable to participate in these activities.

Important:

- Please start arranging your visa three weeks before departure to account for any delays due to consulate operating hours.
- Visa rules are subject to change. Please check with the nearest embassy, consulate or immigration department of the destination/s you are visiting once you receive your travel documentation to ensure you have the most up to date information.
- It is your responsibility to be travel-ready and ensure that you are aware and comply with any destination or travel requirements, including the validity of all required travel documents.
- Passengers who are not Australian citizens must also check with the respective consulate or visa agency to determine what their visa requirements are and what personal identification is required.
- It is also important to note that some areas of employment, such as journalism, government authorities and charity organisations, may have additional restrictions in applying for visas. This may, in turn, affect the type of application required.
