Day 7 Glacier Bay (Scenic Cruising)

With snow-capped peaks, abundant wildlife and shimmering glaciers, it's no wonder Glacier Bay National Park is the crowning jewel of Alaska's Inside Passage.

There's so much to take in on a Glacier Bay National Park cruise, it's hard to know where to begin. Towering mountains, gargantuan icebergs and majestic glaciers stretch as far as the eye can see, disappearing onto the horizon in every direction. It's a thrilling sight to experience.

The park is home to over 1,000 glaciers, the majority of which nestle in the surrounding mountains, connecting land to sky like nature's skyscrapers. Soaring to 4,500 metres, Glacier Bay's ranges are the highest coastal peaks in all the world; their abundant snowfall offering the perfect breeding ground for glaciers to take shape.

One of the highlights of visiting Glacier Bay National Park is watching the prolific calving of these shimmering ice giants. Towering hundreds of feet above the water, as well as stretching a hundred feet below, huge jagged pinnacles routinely break off in thunderous explosions, resulting in flotillas of icebergs. It's an awe-inspiring spectacle.

Please note: Glacier Bay is a scenic cruising destination. Your cruise will not dock on this day of the itinerary.

Overnight: Cunard's Queen Elizabeth

Skagway is Alaska's gateway to the Klondike where in the late 1890s more than 100,000 prospectors arrived in search of gold. Even today, frontier-style saloon-style buildings still line the town's streets, an enduring reminder of this key period in Alaska's gold rush history.

While feeling as though you've somehow fallen through time and into the Wild West is undoubtedly part of Skagway's appeal, there's so much more to admire, discover and experience on a port call to this southerly part of the Great Land.

Skagway's surroundings are nothing short of magnificent. The piercing waters hugging its shores outdone only by the frosted peaks painted on the horizon. It's a vista best savoured from a vintage passenger car on the area's famous White Pass and Yukon Route railway (charges may apply).

The largest tidal glacier in North America, Hubbard Glacier is a rarity; an icy abyss, formed over centuries, where nature, not man, is King. Only by cruising alongside it can you appreciate the majesty of its colossal scale. It's a sight quite unlike anything else, drawing the curiosity of many keen to experience one of the natural world's most humbling creations.

This phenomenal natural wonder is a sight to behold, being a gargantuan glacier of ice, 122 kilometres long and over 600 metres deep in parts. It is the largest tidewater glacier in North America and yet just 100 metres of its mass is visible above water. The bulk remains hidden beneath the surface, faced with a 400-year wait to breach the tideline - the length of time it takes for the ice to traverse the glacier's body and meet air for the first time.

Witness the grace and brilliance of glacial formations and towering icebergs in action as you sail by a highlight of Alaska's many coastal wonders. Hubbard Glacier has dictated local geography and human endeavour over millennia. This is your chance to get close to one of Earth's majestic giants of slow-moving ice.

Other Important Information

TOUR GUIDE VS. TOUR LEADER

Tour Guide

Often locals with intimate knowledge of an area, its culture, and history. Their role entails providing commentary, routing the tour, and seeing that people have a good time. They are a licensed, qualified expert who supplies specific information on the history, art, architecture and culture of the city/village/attraction where they are guiding the tour. The guide meets the group at the required place and leaves it at the end of the tour; they do not travel with the group.

Tour Leader

An experienced person tasked with ensuring the smooth operation of tours, as well as providing practical support to passengers throughout the whole trip. Their role primarily includes assisting with accommodation, transportation between locations, and communication with tour guides at each stop. A tour leader may provide general guidance around a city or village and offer information on the place visited on the bus. However, they are not required to have specific art, architecture, or historical knowledge. They are not allowed to provide a guided tour or commentary of a city/village/attraction once there and, if caught doing so, can be fined.

Please note: Tour leaders/guides are not a standard inclusion in all travel offers. Tour leaders/guides will only be made available when required to enhance the experience of the destination featured.

Shopping overseas can be a daunting and confusing experience, especially when there is a language barrier. Please be very cautious when foreign currencies and prices are involved. If paying by credit card, please pay close attention to the amount you are being charged and keep all your receipts. Do not make any purchases you are not comfortable with or feel pressured into. If you are uncertain or need assistance with the language barrier, please seek assistance from your Tour Guide/Leader. Visas

Canada

If transiting via Canada on the way to the USA, Australian and New Zealand passport holders must apply for an electronic travel authorisation (eTA) before travelling to Canada by air. An Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA) is an entry requirement for visa-exempt foreign nationals travelling to Canada by air. An eTA is electronically linked to a traveller's passport. It is valid for up to five years or until the passport expires, whichever comes first. If you get a new passport, you need to get a new eTA. If you arrive in Canada by train, bus, or boat, you don't need a visa or eTA, but you do need to bring the right travel documents.

United States of America

Australian passport holders must obtain an "ESTA" visa waiver in order to enter or transit in the United States.

Please note: You may be required to obtain a visa if you do not meet the eligibility requirements of the ESTA program. Please see <https://esta.cbp.dhs.gov> for full eligibility requirements and applications.

Important:

- Please start arranging your visa three weeks before departure to account for any delays due to consulate operating hours.*
- Visa rules are subject to change. Please check with the nearest embassy, consulate or immigration department of the destination/s you are visiting once you receive your travel documentation to ensure you have the most up to date information.*
- It is your responsibility to be travel-ready and ensure that you are aware and comply with any destination or travel requirements, including the validity of all required travel documents.*
- Passengers who are not Australian citizens must also check with the respective consulate or visa agency to determine what their visa requirements are and what personal identification is required.*
- It is also important to note that some areas of employment, such as journalism, government authorities and charity organisations, may have additional restrictions in applying for visas. This may, in turn, affect the type of application required.*

Travel Insurance

Embarking on your next trip is exciting, and while you hope the unexpected does not happen, it is best to be prepared. We strongly recommend you take out travel insurance when making your booking. Whether it's a potential medical emergency, a flight cancellation, a delayed suitcase, or an unforeseen event, it's important to ensure you're adequately protected. For more information or advice visit <https://www.tripadeal.com.au/travel-insurance>
