What makes St. Maarten so unique is its blend of cultures. The island is home to 120 different nationalities speaking over 80 languages, and is governed by both the Netherlands and France. In fact, it's the smallest land mass in the world to be shared by two different nations.

While it may be less than 100 square kilometres, there's plenty to do on this little island. If you're after a little rest and relaxation, you'll find plenty of secluded beaches where you can work on your suntan before treating your taste buds to some of the best cuisine in the Caribbean.

This gourmet capital of the Caribbean serves a mix of French, East Indian and island flavours. Why not stop by a roadside barbecue stand (called a lolo) and enjoy lobster grilled on split-metal drums? Be sure to try guavaberry liqueur, made exclusively on the island.

Day 15 Philipsburg, St Maarten

Arrive: 08:00

Depart: 18:00

What makes St. Maarten so unique is its blend of cultures. The island is home to 120 different nationalities speaking over 80 languages, and is governed by both the Netherlands and France. In fact, it's the smallest land mass in the world to be shared by two different nations.

While it may be less than 100 square kilometres, there's plenty to do on this little island. You can travel back in time while exploring centuries-old ruins and get your adrenaline fix ziplining through lush tropical forests. If you're after a little rest and relaxation, you'll find plenty of secluded beaches where you can work on your suntan before treating your taste buds to some of the best cuisine in the Caribbean.

This gourmet capital of the Caribbean serves a mix of French, East Indian and island flavours. Why not stop by a roadside barbecue stand (called a lolo) and enjoy lobster grilled on split-metal drums? Be sure to try guavaberry liqueur, made exclusively on the island.

Charlotte Amalie is one of the world's most beautiful harbours. You'll find blue waters peppered with sailboats and green hills dotted with quaint cottages that make for post-card perfect brags. Just outside the lively port town, you'll find ribbons of powdery sand beaches dotted with hammocks. While in St Thomas, you could explore colonial landmarks like Blackbeard's Castle or raise a pint of the local lager at quaint microbreweries. When it's time to fuel up, you'll find plenty of beachside bars serving conch fritters, johnnycakes and coconut patties.
