Day 4 Cruising Queen Charlotte Sound

The Queen Charlotte Sound lies between the Queen Charlotte Strait, which winds between Vancouver Island and the British Columbia mainland in the south, and Hecate Strait, which is northward, adjacent to the Haida Gwaii Islands off the Pacific coast of British Columbia. It is a broad reach in the long shipping route called the Inside Passage threading the myriad islands stretching from Washington's Puget Sound to Alaska.

Day 5 Ketchikan, Alaska - Transit Snow Pass & Decision Passage

Tendered Port

Arrives: 07:00 Depart: 15:00

Ketchikan is a picturesque coastal town with a colourful frontier history, standing at the southern entrance to Alaska's famed Inside Passage. It began as a salmon cannery in 1885, built by company employee Mike Martin at the mouth of Ketchikan Creek. Once dubbed the 'Canned Salmon Capital of the World,' today government, commercial fishing, and tourism are its main industries. The renowned Creek Street, perched on stilts along the mouth of the creek, would bring lasting infamy to the area for the red-light district that burgeoned there during the Gold Rush.

The town's site first served as a camp for Tlingit people, and for thousands of years this has been their home. Their rich culture is being preserved to this day. A visit to Ketchikan is not complete without visiting one or all of the Native American sites such as Totem Bight State Park, Potlatch Park, Saxman Native Village and the Totem Heritage Centre (optional shore excursion). Together, these locations comprise the world's largest collection of standing Native American totem poles.

Please note: This port is accessed by tender boats. Boarding and disembarking tender boats may involve steps and uneven surfaces. While cruise lines strive to provide ease of access, accessibility options can vary at different tender ports. Passengers with mobility concerns are encouraged to inquire about specific arrangements and consider their individual needs when participating in tendering activities.

Cruising Transit Snow Pass

In the passage between Sumner Strait and Clarence Strait in Southeast Alaska's Alexander Archipelago, midway between Prince of Wales Island on the west and Zarembo Island on the east, is a small cluster of islands with a picturesque passageway between them called Snow Pass. It makes a scenic up-close route for your Seabourn ship during the transit.

Cruising Transit Decision Passage

Decision Passage is the western end of the Sumner Strait, which runs through the Alexander Archipelago into the Pacific Ocean in Southeastern Alaska, bounded on the north by Kuiu Island and Cape Decision, the location of a 1932 lighthouse. This is the route your ship takes when coming from or going to the colourful historic community of Sitka on the west coast of Baranof Island, which was originally the Russian fortress town of New Archangel.

Day 6 Sitka, Alaska

Tendered Port

Arrives: 08:00 Departs: 17:00

Story and soul await in the history and lush scenery of this remote city on Baranof Island. As the oldest city in Alaska, only accessible by air and sea, Sitka is the perfect place to relish the unbridled beauty of the Last Frontier. Nicknamed the "Paris of the Pacific" for the growing wealth acquired during its logging, gold, and fur trade booms, Sitka was sold to the United States by Russia in 1867.

Picturesque remnants of Russia's architectural influence are still present; one of the most intriguing structures is the Cathedral of Saint Michael, built in 1848 to honour a Russian Orthodox bishop. The mix of Tlingit tradition runs heavily through Sitka's streets as well, making for a unique blend of history and culture. From salmon fishing, hikes in the Tongass rainforest, exploring the coastline by private vessel, or even a round of golf in some of the toughest and most beautiful holes in all of Alaska (charges apply) one visit to Sitka is never enough because of the infinite ways to connect with its culture, wildlife, and people.

Please note: This port is accessed by tender boats. Boarding and disembarking tender boats may involve steps and uneven surfaces. While cruise lines strive to provide ease of access, accessibility options can vary at different tender ports. Passengers with mobility concerns are encouraged to inquire about specific arrangements and consider their individual needs when participating in tendering activities.

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 7 Cruising Yakutat Bay & Hubbard Glacier

Yakutat Bay is 28 kilometres wide at its entry, and cuts from the Gulf of Alaska into Disenchantment Bay, the entryway to the huge Hubbard Glacier, North America's largest tidewater glacier. As the bay narrows and the shorelines draw closer, the 400-foot face of the glacier exerts a luminous, ghostly presence, often from as much as 30 miles away. More and more floating ice dimples the surface of the water, and seals bob up and disappear again.

The chilled air from the glacier flows in a downdraft of cold that gives rise to mists and gray clouds, through which the vivid blue of the ice wall shimmers. It is an impressive sight of nature's immense raw workplace, shaping the earth itself as part of an endless cycle of water from the sea evaporating to the sky, falling as snow on the heights and inching over centuries back again to the sea.

19-DAY CRUISE PACKAGE | LUXURY SEABOURN ALASKA EXPERIENCE

The Itinerary

Day 8 Inian Islands, Alaska - Icy Strait Point, Alaska

Arrives: 05:30 - Departs: 12:30

As the gatekeepers to the northern entrance of the fabled Inside Passage, the remote Inian Islands stand between Cross Sound and Icy Strait, exposed to the high energy seas of the Pacific Ocean. Tidal currents surging through the narrow channels separating the islands can be severe. Nicknames like 'The Laundry Chute' justify their notorious reputations.

For millennia, Tlingit people came here to hunt and fish in the rich bounty that these waters provided. Today, the Inian Islands Institute, located within the islands, provides access to the abundant and protected waters for scientific research. Sitka black-tailed deer and brown bears frequent their rugged and rocky shores, while sea lions fill their stomachs with salmon before hauling out to rest on the many rocky outcrops making up this island group. Sea otters, bald eagles, and humpback whales frequent the area in significant numbers during the summer months.

The Inian Islands were named by William Healey Dall, one of Alaska's earliest scientific explorers, in 1879.

Icy Strait Point

Tendered Port

Arrives: 16:00 Departs: 20:00

Icy Strait Point is a unique community on Chichagof Island near the entry to Glacier Bay National Park. It was created and is owned by a corporation of over 1300 Native Americans of various local Tlingit tribes, for the purpose of offering visitors an enjoyable, educational experience of Alaska's native cultures, as well as the human and natural history of the region. Your tender will dock at the historic 1912 salmon canning facility, which today is a museum. The surrounding grounds offer cultural performances, Native American-owned shops and galleries, restaurants and a variety of tours and excursions for every interest from sport fishing to whale watching, guided nature walks and excursions to view bears and other wildlife, ATV tours and even a zipline adventure that is said to be the longest (over a mile) and highest (over 1330 feet of drop) in North America.

The small village of Hoonah is just over a mile away, and can be reached either by walking or on a shuttle. It also has shops and eateries, as well as a totem-carving enterprise run by the corporation. The Huna Totem Corporation maintains complete control of the content and access to the community, which has won a number of prestigious awards for its sustainable approach to exploiting the natural and historical heritage of Alaska and its native peoples for their benefit.

Please note: This port is accessed by tender boats. Boarding and disembarking tender boats may involve steps and uneven surfaces. While cruise lines strive to provide ease of access, accessibility options can vary at different tender ports. Passengers with mobility concerns are encouraged to inquire about specific arrangements and consider their individual needs when participating in tendering activities.

The Itinerary

Day 9 Haines, Alaska - Cruising Lynn Canal

Arrives: 06:00 Departs: 18:00

Tucked in along the shores of the longest fjord in North America and surrounded by breathtaking scenery, Haines is an authentic Alaskan experience. It is an eclectic community and a truly hidden gem. Its rich culture shines brightly during the annual state fair that draws people from all over Alaska.

Haines is home to the largest concentration of bald eagles on earth, and grizzly bears gorge themselves on spawning salmon in its rivers. It was originally named Dteshuh, which means 'end of the trail' in the language of the Chilkat natives, who used to portage across the peninsula to Chilkat Inlet as a shortcut to their trade route to the interior.

Cruising Lynn Canal

Lynn Canal is a 144 kilometre long inlet into Alaska's coast running from the Chilkat River in the north to the Chatham Strait and Stephens Passage in the south. Because it connects the towns of Skagway and Haines to Juneau and the rest of the Inside Passage, it is an important shipping lane for ferries, cargo and cruise ships, and was a crucial passageway to the Klondike gold fields during the Gold Rush. It was discovered by Joseph Whidbey in 1794 and named by George Vancouver after his birthplace, King's Lynn in Norfolk, England. More than 600 metres in depth, it is one of the deepest and longest fjords in the world, and the deepest in North America outside Greenland.

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 10 Juneau, Alaska

Arrives: 07:00 Departs: 21:00

Juneau, Alaska's capital, is accessible only by air and sea, due to the rugged mountain terrain that surrounds the city. It has been a world-class travel destination since the early 1900's. The city has plenty to offer the outdoor adventurer. You may choose to explore on foot along the Perseverance Trail or around Mendenhall Glacier, or board one of the many local whale-watching boats, or view the mountains and extensive glaciers of the Juneau Icefield from a helicopter (optional shore excursions).

Although founded by Alaskan pioneers, this area was in use for thousands of years by the Tlingit people and was originally settled by the Auke tribe, taking advantage of the abundant food and natural resources provided by the land and sea. Their descendants continue to gather clams, gumboot chitons, grass and sea urchins to this day.

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 11 Tracy Arm (or Endicott Arm) - Cruising Stephens Passage

Arrives: 07:00 Departs: 17:00

Subject to ice conditions & daylight hours

A short distance south from Alaska's capital of Juneau, where Holkham Bay cuts into the coastline under a dramatic back-drop of high snow-capped peaks and the verdant Tongass National Forest, lies the entrance to Tracy Arm-Fords Terror Wilderness. From Holkam Bay, the waterway is bisected into Tracy Arm to the north and Endicott Arm to the south. Each arm terminates at a stunning blue river of ice: North and South Sawyer glaciers in Tracy Arm and Dawes glacier in Endicott Arm.

It is hard to imagine that thousands of years ago these now-distant glaciers joined in Holkham Bay, more than thirty miles from their present locations. Extremely active, the glaciers calve frequently, filling their fjords with icebergs that reach heights of three stories. Brown and black bears, wolves, deer, mountain goats, seals and many seabirds frequent this vast wilderness region. Designated as a wilderness area in 1980, Tracy Arm-Fords Terror Wilderness covers an area of 264,000 hectares and one-fifth of its area is covered by ice.

Cruising Stephens Passage

One of the straightest stretches of the Inside Passage is the Stephens Passage just south of Juneau, a 168 kilometre channel between 1.5 kilometre peaks that cuts through the Alexander Archipelago between Admiralty Island on the west and the mainland and Douglas Island on the east. It is a good place to be on deck, because Admiralty boasts more bears than people, and the spruce and hemlock forests come right down to the water. The Passage is generally considered some of the best whale-watching water in Alaska, and also holds plentiful populations of huge Steller sea lions, as well as flocks of gulls and guillemots that clatter aloft as the ship passes. The passage was named by George Vancouver in 1794 after being charted by Joseph Whidbey.

* Please note, for the 2nd September 2026 departure - you will be sailing to Glacier Bay and Chatham Strait and NOT Tracy Arm (Or Endicott Arm) & Stephens Passage

Glacier Bay

Arrives: 07:00 - Departs: 16:00

Designated as an International World Heritage Site in 1992, Glacier Bay is also a National Monument, a National Park and a designated Biosphere Reserve. Over millennia, Glacier Bay has experienced many major advances of its glaciers. When first surveyed in 1794 by a team under the command of British captain George Vancouver on HMS Discovery, its vast glaciers extended well beyond present-day margins of the bay. Temperate, coniferous rainforest dominates its southern shores. Black and brown bears, wolves, moose, eagles and ravens all go about their daily routines, while harbor seals and whales frolic within the bay waters.

Cruising Chatham Strait  Cruising only **

The scenic, 240-kilometre long Chatham Strait runs from the confluence of Icy Strait and the Lynn Canal to the open sea, through the Alexander Archipelago in Southeast Alaska. Varying between 5 and 16 kilometres wide, it is bounded on the east by Admiralty and Kuiu Islands and in the west by Chichagof and Baranof Islands.

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

19-DAY CRUISE PACKAGE | LUXURY SEABOURN ALASKA EXPERIENCE

The Itinerary

Day 12 Cruising Decision Passage - Wrangell - Stikine Strait

Decision Passage is the western end of the Sumner Strait, which runs through the Alexander Archipelago into the Pacific Ocean in Southeastern Alaska, bounded on the north by Kuiu Island and Cape Decision, the location of a 1932 lighthouse. This is the route your ship takes when coming from or going to the colourful historic community of Sitka on the west coast of Baranof Island, which was originally the Russian fortress town of New Archangel.

Wrangell

Arrives: 08:00 - Departs: 18:00

One of the thousands of islands of the Alexander Archipelago, Wrangell Island sits at the heart of the Tongass National Rain Forest and receives approximately 203 centimetres of rain per year. The city of Wrangell, a true Alaskan frontier town, sits at the northern end of the island, a short distance from the mouth of the mighty Stikine River. The history of Wrangell is deeply rooted in the Tlingit people, the fur trade and the gold rush. The Stikine River trade route brought the Tlingit people here thousands of years ago, evidenced by some forty petroglyphs at Petroglyph Beach State Historic Site and Totem Park. The Stikine River, Shakes Glacier and Anan Creek Bear Observatory are highlights in the region. Anan Creek boasts the largest pink salmon run of the Inside Passage, attracting brown and black bears in great numbers.

Cruising Stikine Strait

Stikine Strait is a picturesque channel in the Alexander Archipelago of Alaska between Zarembo Island and Woronkofski and Etolin Islands near the mouth of the Stikine River south of Wrangell. It first appears on an 1848 Russian chart as Stakhin Strait and has been spelled variously on many charts since that time.

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 13 Cruising Behm Canal - Rudyerd (Misty Fjords) - Scenic Cruising Misty Fjords

The 173 kilometre Behm Canal runs from the Clarence Strait through the Alexander Archipelago of Southeast Alaska and into the channel separating Revillagigedo Island from the mainland. It forms part Inside Passage on the route between Ketchikan and the Misty Fjords National Monument. The canal was named by George Vancouver during his surveying expedition in 1793, in honour of Magnus von Behm, who had been governor of Kamchatka in the Russian Far East when Vancouver called at Petropavlovsk with Captain Cook's expedition following Cook's murder in Hawaii.

Rudyerd Bay (Misty Fjords)

Arrives: 08:00 - Departs: 18:00

Scottish-American naturalist John Muir compared the 930,000-hectare Misty Fjords National Monument to his favourite place in America, Yosemite National Park. Often shrouded in mist, Misty Fjords is a true wilderness. Its vertical granite cliffs, which reach 900 metres above sea level, descend another 300 metres below the water's surface. Carved by glaciers and covered in a green carpet of mosses and lichens, Misty Fjords receives more than 381 centremetre of rain per year. Western hemlock, Sitka spruce, and western red cedar dominate the prolific vegetation along its shore.

Mountain goats, brown and black bears, coastal wolves, sea lions, bald eagles, ravens, Dall's porpoises, orca and humpback whales can be spotted along its shorelines and throughout its waters. Long before the arrival of John Muir, the Tlingit people lived and moved throughout this region, surviving on what the land provided. Evidence of their historic and ongoing presence is recorded in the many pictographs found along the shores of Misty Fjords.

Cruising Misty Fjords

Subject to weather conditions and daylight hours

Misty Fjords National Monument is a section of the Tongass National Forest in Alaska's extreme southeastern Panhandle region. The monument comprises over two million acres of deeply cut fjords, cradled in U-shaped valleys between mountain ranges that rise 900 metres above sea level. The fjords themselves extend as much as 300 metres below the surface. These granite ranges are covered with virgin forest, and most of the monument is also a dedicated wilderness area. Misty Fjords inspired the explorer John Muir to proclaim them among the most beautiful places he had ever seen. Your ship will cruise among these spectacular forests, waterfalls and mountains. The onboard Ventures by Seabourn team will offer optional excursions, including kayaking the fjords and a short sightseeing floatplane flight (charges apply).

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 14 Prince Rupert, British Columbia, Canada

Arrives: 08:00 - Departs: 23:00

Prince Rupert, set amongst the coastal mountains, is the jumping-off point for travellers joining the coastal ferries to Haida Gwaii, Vancouver or north to Alaska. Highlights include the quaint Cow Bay with its shops and restaurants, the Museum of Northern British Columbia, the totem carving house and the stunning sunken gardens. Prince Rupert certainly has abundant wildlife. Whether you join a local boat for whale-watching, hike along the Butze Rapids or take a scenic flight, you are sure to be pleased (charges apply). The region is home to the highest concentration of grizzly bears in North America. The Khutzeymateen Grizzly Bear Sanctuary, established in 1994, was the first area in Canada to be protected specifically for grizzlies and their habitat. Founded in 1910, the town was named after Prince Rupert, who served as a governor of the Hudson's Bay Company from 1670. Prince Rupert is the northern terminus of the Canadian National Railway and an important port for goods moving towards Alaska.

The Itinerary

Day 15 Cruising Grenville Channel, Whale Channel & Princess Royal Channel

Grenville Channel is a long, well-protected channel along the northern British Columbia coast between the large Pitt Island and the mainland. It is an important shipping lane, and you are likely to see ships of many different types and sizes as you pass through. The shores are mountainous on both sides, with two notable peaks about halfway through, Mt. Batchellor on the east side and Mt. Saunders on Pitt Island to the west. There are a number of Indian Reserves and Marine Parks in the mountains and narrow waterways off the channel.

Cruising Whale Channel

Arrives: 10:00 - Departs: 14:00

Whale Channel is a picturesque waterway separating Gil Island from Princess Royal Island in British Columbia's Inside Passage. Surrounded by snow-capped mountain ranges and teeming with marine life, it is a diversion from the main shipping lane, located roughly halfway between Prince Rupert and the First Nations village of Klemtu.

Cruising Prince Royal Channel Subject to weather conditions The Princess Royal Channel separates the largest island along British Columbia's coast from the mainland. It is located roughly halfway between Bella Bella in the south and Prince Rupert in the north, in one of the province's most remote areas. Princess Royal Island was named in 1788 by Captain Charles Duncan in honour of his ship, the Princess Royal. The island is uninhabited, although there are two small villages in the channel: The First Nations community of Klemtu on Swindle Island and Hartley Bay on the mainland. Wildlife, by contrast, is plentiful, including Kermode, black and grizzly bears, deer, wolves and foxes—golden and bald eagles nest in the region, as well as the endangered marbled murrelet. In the waters, there are abundant salmon, elephant seals, whales, orcas and dolphins.

Overnight: Seabourn Encore

Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 16 Alert Bay, British Columbia - Cruising Johnstone Strait & Seymour Narrows

Tendered Port

Arrives 06:00 - Departs: 16:00

Subject to tidal conditions

Located on the now-dormant Alert Bay volcanic belt, Cormorant Island is host to Vancouver Island's oldest northern community, the small town of Alert Bay. It is located in the traditional territory of the Kwakwaka'wakw First Nation, and today is a blend of both aboriginal and pioneer culture. A walk along the shores of this tiny 1.8 kilometre island will amaze you with its history, spectacular views, and abundant wildlife. Remnants of its former fish-salting plant from the 1800s remain along the harbour. The U'mista Cultural Centre is Canada's longest-running First Nations museum, and it is home to the renowned Potlatch Collection. This collection of ceremonial regalia was confiscated for preservation by Canadian authorities in 1922 and finally returned to the community during the 1980s. Seabirds, humpback, orca, and gray whales, sea lions and white-sided dolphins are all present in the surrounding waters. Alert Bay was named in 1860 for the Royal Navy ship HMS Alert, which conducted survey operations in and around the region.

Cruising Johnstone Strait

Johnstone Strait is a well-protected shipping route passing 110 kilometre along the northeast shore of Vancouver Island between the island and the mainland of British Columbia. The strait is between 2.5 kilometre and 5 kilometre wide, and leads from the broad Georgia Strait through a narrow channel called Discovery Passage. The strait was named by Vancouver in 1792 for James Johnstone, the master of one of his tenders during the survey expedition that revealed Vancouver Island to be an island. There are no cities or towns on the strait. The Johnstone Strait is the summer range of a large pod of seasonally resident orcas, which are frequently seen in the area.

Other Important Information

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Vancouver

Vancouver experiences its warmest and driest weather from May to September, making it a popular time to visit. In May, average daily temperatures typically range from about 9°C at night to 16°C during the day, with increasing sunshine and decreasing rainfall. June sees a further warming, with averages often between 11°C and 20°C, and it becomes noticeably drier. July and August are the peak of summer, offering the warmest conditions with average highs around 22°C to 23°C and lows around 13°C to 14°C, along with the least amount of rain and the most sunshine. By September, temperatures begin to cool slightly, with average highs around 19°C and lows around 10°C. Although still generally pleasant, rainfall starts to increase towards the end of the month as the city transitions into its wetter autumn season.

Alaska

Alaska's climate from May through September offers its mildest and most accessible conditions for visitors, though temperatures vary considerably depending on the region. May typically sees cool, gradually warming temperatures, with coastal areas experiencing daytime highs between 12°C and 16°C, and nights around 4°C. As summer progresses into June and July, the state reaches its warmest period, with daytime highs in the Inside Passage often ranging from 15°C to 20°C, while the Interior can be significantly warmer, sometimes reaching 20°C to 27°C or even into the low 30s °C, accompanied by ample daylight. August continues with warm temperatures, averaging 15°C to 20°C during the day, though rainfall starts to increase. By September, autumn begins to set in, bringing cooler days of 9°C to 15°C and nights dipping to 2°C to 8°C, with a noticeable increase in precipitation as the month advances. Throughout this period, layering clothing is essential due to the potential for rapid temperature changes and varying conditions, especially in coastal areas.

Yellow Fever

A valid international certificate of vaccination against Yellow Fever is required in many countries. You may need to present this on arrival at the airport or border crossing. Some countries will refuse entry if you are unable to present your certificate. It's also common for your home country to request a Yellow Fever certificate upon arrival. You must check with your doctor well before leaving home about the Yellow Fever requirements for the countries you'll be visiting.

Shopping overseas can be a daunting and confusing experience, especially when there is a language barrier. Please be very cautious when foreign currencies and prices are involved. If paying by credit card, please pay close attention to the amount you are being charged and keep all your receipts. Do not make any purchases you are not comfortable with or feel pressured into. If you are uncertain or need assistance with the language barrier, please seek assistance from your Tour Guide/Leader. Please refer to our Terms and Conditions regarding shopping for further information.

Visas

Canada

Australian and New Zealand passport holders must apply for an electronic travel authorisation (eTA) before travelling to Canada by air. An Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA) is an entry requirement for visa-exempt foreign nationals travelling to Canada by air. An eTA is electronically linked to a traveller's passport. It is valid for up to five years or until the passport expires, whichever comes first. If you get a new passport, you need to get a new eTA.

United States of America

Australian and New Zealand passport holders must obtain an ESTA visa waiver in order to enter or transit in the United States.

Please note: You may be required to obtain a visa if you do not meet the eligibility requirements of the ESTA program. Please see <https://esta.cbp.dhs.gov> for full eligibility requirements and applications.

Important:

- Please start arranging your visa three weeks before departure to account for any delays due to consulate operating hours.
- Visa rules are subject to change. Please check with the nearest embassy, consulate or immigration department of the destination/s you are visiting once you receive your travel documentation to ensure you have the most up to date information.
- It is your responsibility to be travel-ready and ensure that you are aware and comply with any destination or travel requirements, including the validity of all required travel documents.
- Passengers who are not Australian citizens must also check with the respective consulate or visa agency to determine what their visa requirements are and what personal identification is required.
- It is also important to note that some areas of employment, such as journalism, government authorities and charity organisations, may have additional restrictions in applying for visas. This may, in turn, affect the type of application required.

Travel Insurance

Embarking on your next trip is exciting, and while you hope the unexpected does not happen, it is best to be prepared. We strongly recommend you take out travel insurance when making your booking. Whether it's a potential medical emergency, a flight cancellation, a delayed
