CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Philippines

In May, the weather in the Philippines is consistently hot and humid, marking the end of the dry season and the beginning of the hot summer period before the monsoon rains. Across both the mainland and the islands, daily temperatures typically range from lows of 25°C to 27°C to highs of 32°C to 35°C. While major cities like Manila experience some of the highest temperatures, reaching up to 34°C, cooler temperatures can be found in the mountainous regions of Luzon, such as Baguio. The Visayas islands, including popular destinations like Cebu and Boracay, and the southern island group of Mindanao, see similar hot conditions. Despite being a predominantly dry month, May is also a transitional period, with a noticeable increase in humidity and a higher chance of scattered, brief afternoon thunderstorms.

Japan

May is a prime month to visit Japan, offering mild and pleasant weather across the country before the onset of the summer rainy season. The climate varies significantly by region, with central cities like Tokyo and Kyoto enjoying comfortable temperatures between 12°C and 25°C, ideal for sightseeing. In the warmer southern islands of Kyushu and Okinawa,

In contrast, the northern island of Hokkaido remains considerably cooler, with highs of 15°C to 20°C. Overall, May is a relatively dry month with low humidity and ample sunshine, making it an excellent time for outdoor activities and viewing the last of the cherry blossoms in the northern parts of the country.

FLIGHTS

Seat Selection & Frequent Flyer Points

We do not arrange seat selection. It is essential to highlight that some airlines do not allow pre-selected seats. We strongly suggest you contact the airline directly with seating allocation requirements and/or arrive at the airport earlier to arrange your seating. While we do not add frequent flyer member details to bookings, you can do this directly with the airline once you have your flight information.

Dietary Requests

Meal options and availability differ between airlines and routes therefore not all dietary requests can be accommodated. If your flight includes meals we will select the most suitable option available based on the dietary requirements you have specified. All meal requests are subject to airline approval and are not guaranteed, therefore we recommend preparing for your flight by bringing appropriate food for yourself, as required.

Passport Validity

Customers must provide valid passport details either at the time of purchase or no later than 90 days before the departure date. Failure to do so may result in the cancellation of the booking. Customers will be responsible for any costs and fees incurred in this instance.

You must check with your doctor well before leaving home about the Yellow Fever requirements for the countries you'll be visiting.
