Day 13 Jaipur - Abhaneri - Agra

After an early breakfast, depart for Agra, visiting Abhaneri. Abhaneri is a small village in the Dausa district in northern Rajasthan; it is located 95km from Jaipur, towards the Jaipur-Agra highway. The town's present name, Abhaneri, is believed to be a mispronunciation of 'Abha Nagri' or the 'city of brightness'. Here you will visit the famous Chand Baori Step Well – opposite a temple called Harshat Mata Temple. It extends approximately 30m into the ground, making it one of India's most profound and largest stepwells.

On arrival in Agra, check into the hotel. This afternoon, enjoy a visit to Agra Fort (Red Fort). A fascinating sight, it showcases a high level of ornamentation, with the Kohinoor diamond reportedly part of the furnishings at some point. The fort's artwork mixes Persian, European, and Indian art, resulting in a unique Shahjahani style rich in form, expression, and colour.

Agra Fort is one of India's building complexes, encapsulating a long period of history, arts, and innovative architectural style, including its garden design, which influenced later buildings and gardens in Delhi. In 1983, it was designated a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Today, enjoy the world-famous city of Agra at

The optional tour includes a transfer in an air-conditioned vehicle, an English-speaking guide and fees. Please see current pricing in Important Information.

Please note: Should your itinerary see Day 14 fall on a Friday when the Taj Mahal is closed, you will visit the Taj Mahal in the afternoon during the sunset of Day 13 and Agra Fort on Day 14 instead. The optional visit to Baby Taj and Mehtab will be available on the morning of Day 14.

Day 14 Agra - Taj Mahal - Varanasi

Today, you will visit the Taj Mahal just after sunrise (at approximately 06:00) and return to the hotel for breakfast, or you can visit just after breakfast at 09:00 (included).

The world-famous Taj Mahal is where you will see the undeniable beauty that incorporates and expands on design traditions of Persian and earlier Mughal architecture. While earlier Mughal buildings were primarily constructed of red sandstone, Shah Jahan promoted the use of white marble inlaid with semi-precious stones.

Shah Jahan commissioned the Taj Mahal in 1631 to be built in memory of his wife, Mumtaz Mahal. Construction began in 1632, the principal mausoleum was completed in 1643, and the surrounding buildings and garden were finished about five years later.

Enjoy the city of Agra at leisure or take part in the optional activity below. Late this afternoon, you will travel approximately 210 kilometres back to Delhi and transfer to the airport for your flight to Varanasi.

Optional Activity: Food Trail Tour

Embark on a heritage walk through hidden lanes and bustling markets and visit various local eateries. Meet the people behind some of the city's most famous snacks. Sample some traditional foods such as paratha and chat, savour one of the best chai served in a traditional clay cup and taste Agra's famous sweet petha. Initially prepared more than 350 years ago from the royal kitchens of Shah Jahan, this sugary white pumpkin sweet comes in various flavours that have adapted to consumers' changing tastes. Optional tours include a transfer in an a/c vehicle, an English-speaking guide, and a selection of snacks and chai. Today's driving time/distance is approximately 5 hours/240km.

However, they are not required to have specific art, architecture, or historical knowledge. They are not allowed to provide a guided tour or commentary of a city/village/attraction once there and, if caught doing so, can be fined.

Please note: Tour leaders/guides are not a standard inclusion in all travel offers. Tour leaders/guides will only be made available when required to enhance the experience of the destination featured.
