Other Important Information

TOUR GUIDE VS. TOUR LEADER

Tour Guide:

Often locals with intimate knowledge of an area, its culture, and history. Their role entails providing commentary, routing the tour, and seeing that people have a good time. They are a licensed, qualified expert who supplies specific information on the history, art, architecture and culture of the city/village/attraction where they are guiding the tour. The guide meets the group at the required place and leaves it at the end of the tour; they do not travel with the group.

Tour Leader:

An experienced person tasked with ensuring the smooth operation of tours, as well as providing practical support to passengers throughout the whole trip. Their role primarily includes assisting with accommodation, transportation between locations, and communication with tour guides at each stop. A tour leader may provide general guidance around a city or village and offer information on the place visited on the bus. However, they are not required to have specific art, architecture, or historical knowledge. They are not allowed to provide a guided tour or commentary of a city/village/attraction once there and, if caught doing so, can be fined.

Please note: Tour leaders/guides are not a standard inclusion in all travel offers. Tour leaders/guides will only be made available when required to enhance the experience of the destination featured.

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Hong Kong

Hong Kong has a humid subtropical climate, characterized by four distinct seasons. Its seasons consist of a long, hot and humid summer, a mild and generally dry winter, a warm and humid spring, and a pleasant, sunny autumn. The hottest months are from June to August, with average high temperatures often exceeding 31°C accompanied by high humidity. The coldest month is January, with an average temperature of around 17°C. The typhoon season officially runs from May to November, with the highest chance of storms from July to September.

Okinawa (Naha), Japan

Okinawa possesses a humid subtropical climate, which borders on a tropical rainforest climate. It experiences very long, hot, and humid summers and mild winters, rather than four distinct temperate seasons. The summer, lasting from May to October, is hot, humid, and wet, serving as both the rainy season and the peak typhoon season, with temperatures frequently reaching 32°C. Winters are mild and pleasant, with temperatures in the coldest months of January and February averaging between 17°C and 21°C.

Ishigaki, Japan

Ishigaki has a tropical rainforest climate, meaning it is hot and humid year-round with no distinct seasons. The temperature variation throughout the year is minimal. The period from June to October is the hottest and wettest, with the highest risk of typhoons and average high temperatures around 32°C. The "winter" from December to February is still very warm and suitable for beach activities, with average temperatures around 19°C to 22°C. While rainfall occurs throughout the year, it is heaviest during the summer months.
