Cruise

Gratuities (tips) are not included for the cruise staff's services throughout this tour's cruise component. Princess Cruises is an internationally registered company and operates to US and European standards, both of which have an economy driven by a tipping culture. Gratuities are expected on your cruise and will be charged to your onboard account from USD $17 per person per day (for Interior, Ocean View and Balcony Staterooms) or from USD $18 per person per day (for Mini-Suites). If you have any questions regarding the gratuities on your cruise, please speak to the guest services staff onboard the ship.

Other Important Information

TOUR GUIDE VS. TOUR LEADER

Tour Guide:

Often locals with intimate knowledge of an area, its culture, and history. Their role entails providing commentary, routing the tour, and seeing that people have a good time. They are a licensed, qualified expert who supplies specific information on the history, art, architecture and culture of the city/village/attraction where they are guiding the tour. The guide meets the group at the required place and leaves it at the end of the tour; they do not travel with the group.

Tour Leader:

An experienced person tasked with ensuring the smooth operation of tours, as well as providing practical support to passengers throughout the whole trip. Their role primarily includes assisting with accommodation, transportation between locations, and communication with tour guides at each stop. A tour leader may provide general guidance around a city or village and offer information on the place visited on the bus. However, they are not required to have specific art, architecture, or historical knowledge. They are not allowed to provide a guided tour or commentary of a city/village/attraction once there and, if caught doing so, can be fined.

Please note: Tour leaders/guides are not a standard inclusion in all travel offers. Tour leaders/guides will only be made available when required to enhance the experience of the destination featured.

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Japan

During the transition from summer to autumn, Japan's weather varies significantly by latitude: Tokyo, Niigata, and Shimizu experience peak heat and high humidity in July and August (highs of 29–32°C), followed by a rainy, typhoon-prone September (23–27°C) and a pleasant, crisper October (18–22°C). In the south, Nagasaki, Kagoshima, and Kochi are consistently hotter and more tropical, with August highs frequently reaching 33°C and remaining warm well into October (highs around 23–25°C). Conversely, Hakodate in the north offers a much cooler retreat, with mild July and August temperatures peaking at only 23–25°C, dropping rapidly to a cool 15–16°C by October. Across all regions except Hokkaido, the "Tsuyu" rainy season typically ends in mid-July, making August the sunniest but most oppressive month, while September carries the highest risk of tropical storms before the clear, mild "golden" days of autumn arrive in October.

Busan, South Korea

Busan's weather during these months closely mirrors the patterns of Japan's southern coastal cities like Nagasaki and Kochi. In July and August, the city experiences its peak heat and humidity, with average highs ranging from 28°C to 30°C and frequent "tropical nights" where temperatures rarely dip below 23°C. This period also marks the height of the monsoon season, making July the wettest month of the year with significant rainfall. As the season shifts into September, the intense humidity begins to break, though average highs remain warm at around 26°C and the risk of typhoons remains present. By October, Busan enters its most comfortable period; the air becomes much drier and crisper, with pleasant daytime highs of 22°C and cool evenings averaging 13°C, offering ideal conditions for outdoor activities and viewing the early autumn foliage.
