Day 2 Hong Kong, China

Enjoy a day at leisure in Hong Kong.

Among the world's most glamorous and cosmopolitan cities, Hong Kong sits on the southern coast of China at the Pearl River estuary of the South China Sea. It comprises Hong Kong Island, where the Central Business District and most affluent areas and attractions are, and, on the mainland, Kowloon and the New Territories.

Hong Kong is a regional and global hub for banking, shipping, fashion and food, boasting more than 60 Michelin-starred restaurants. Its five-star hotels are among the most elegant to be found anywhere; many are set in the towering skyscrapers that carpet Hong Kong Island's steep slopes and light up its skyline so beautifully.

Officially known as the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China, Hong Kong maintains a high degree of autonomy relative to the rest of China, even after it was reunified with China in 1997, following 156 years of British rule. Many cruises in Southeast and East Asia start or end in Hong Kong, and it's definitely a great city to spend a day or two sightseeing and enjoying cultural activities before or after the voyage.

Overnight: Park Hotel Hong Kong or similar, Hong Kong, China

This vibrant, buzzing metropolis filled with history, culture and futuristic feats is unlike any other city in the world. Tradition and innovation exist side by side here. You'll see it in the city's dazzling skyline, stately dragon boats, abundance of museums and acclaimed food scene.

Before your cruise from Hong Kong, why not pay a visit to the massive Tian Tan Buddha, which towers at over 34 metres tall. Savour delicious noodles and other tempting bites at the Temple Street Night Market or set sail on a harbour cruise for unbeatable views of Hong Kong's iconic skyline.

Day 6 Ha Long Bay, Vietnam (Overnight)

Arrive: 07:00 - Overnight

Like a combination of Thailand's famous limestone island-studded Phang Nga Bay and old Hong Kong's harbour with its dragon-sailed junks, Vietnam's Ha Long Bay is fast making its way to the top of everyone's Asian must-see travel list. The bay and its almost two thousand islands were declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1994, officially recognising this natural wonder that has captivated painters and poets for centuries.

Ha Long City has several markets and restaurants worth visiting, and serves as a convenient base before setting out for places like Cat Ba Island and some of the smaller islets with their underground caves and biodiverse wildlife. As you sail the bay or look at it from the mainland, you may feel like you've stepped into a postcard or a painting from the classic era of Vietnamese art.

The Itinerary

Day 9 Da Nang (Hue), Vietnam

Arrive: 08:00 - Depart: 18:00

Located halfway between Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City, the port city of Da Nang has a small-town charm despite its lack of big-ticket attractions. It is home to a stunning 30-kilometre coastline that is popular for water sports such as waterskiing, paddle-boarding and surfing. It's also known for its great street food - and an extremely quirky bridge that you can't miss. The place was previously occupied by both the French and the Americans (this was the first place U.S. Marines landed in March 1965), and vestiges of both can be seen in the city, from the remnants of the vast U.S. air base and hospital to the city's wide boulevards and old villas.

Da Nang is a great launchpad for day trips, whether to the picturesque city of Hoi An to the south, the old imperial capital of Hue to the north, or the majestic Marble Mountains to the southwest. The UNESCO-protected Champa temple complex, My Son, which lies 69 kilometres southeast, is definitely worth the trip - but for those who don't want to leave the urban environs, many of the ruins have ended up at Da Nang's excellent Museum of Cham Sculpture, where you can learn all about the history and architecture of this fascinating culture.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 10 Cruising (Christmas Day)

Enjoy the festival atmosphere and activities onboard as you cruise towards your next destination. An at-sea day aboard Holland America Line's Noordam is all about slowing down and enjoying the journey as much as the destination. With no port to visit, the ship becomes your resort, offering a relaxed blend of leisure, entertainment, dining and ocean views.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 11 Phu My (Ho Chi Minh City), Vietnam

Arrive: 06:00 - Depart: 18:00

Phu My is your gateway to bustling Ho Chi Minh City, approximately 80 kilometres from the port. Here, motorbikes hurtle down the wide streets and crossing the road is like a real-life game of Frogger. Its hectic pace is somewhat tempered by tranquil parks, peaceful pagodas and timeless alleyways.

Choose from one of Holland America's shore excursions, or make your own arrangements from Phu My to Ho Chi Minh City.

Formerly known as Saigon, Ho Chi Minh City is a fascinating mix of high and low, old and new. On its streets, French-colonial architecture vies for attention with glistening modern skyscrapers; sleek designer malls sit alongside bustling local markets; and glamorous fine-dining restaurants are just around the corner from street-food stalls.

The Itinerary

The best way to explore the city is on foot. Most major tourist venues are in compact District 1, which is easy to get around. Or hop on the back of a xe om (motorbike taxi) to see the city like a local. Whatever you choose to do, you'll be swept along in the pulsating energy of it all.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 12 Cruising

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam

Day 13 Sihanoukville, Cambodia
Arrive: 07:00 - Depart: 20:00

Cambodia's certainly most famous for the temples of Angkor, but travellers seeking to wander farther are flocking to the small-yet-bustling coastal town of Sihanoukville. Renamed in 1964 for King Norodom Sihanouk, this provincial port is home to some of the nation's most stunning coastline and a downtown that's a blend of local businesses and a lively expat scene centred on Serendipity Road.

You'll find several beaches, each with its own personality: good for whether you want a relaxed day reading a novel or one full of activity, food and people-watching.

Often described as the Thailand of 20 years ago, this region is less touristy but still able to meet your expectations for a perfect beach getaway. In Sihanoukville, you could take a guided snorkelling trip, kayak through mangrove forests, hike through a national park or go horseback riding on the beach. If you are in the mood for less action can spend time exploring the local temples or shopping near the beach. Angkor's certainly amazing, but Sihanoukville might just be Cambodia's most perfect, still-secret stop.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 14 Pattaya, Thailand (Overnight)
Arrive: 11:00 - Overnight

Located on the Gulf of Thailand, Pattaya beckons with golden sand stretches and intriguing cultural marvels. Though Pattaya shares the high energy typical of a big city, there's no rush to your exploration. Shop for local handicrafts at the Pattaya Floating Market, admire the ornate details of the Sanctuary of Truth and Wat Phra Yai, or snorkel in the crystalline waters off the coast of a nearby island.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 15 Pattaya, Thailand
Depart: 17:00

Enjoy your second day in Pattaya.

The Itinerary

Day 16 Nathon (Koh Samui), Thailand - New Year's Eve

Arrive: 08:00 - Depart: 16:00

Tendered

Koh Samui can feel like a screensaver landscape. As if designed by Mother Nature for posters, calendars and daydreams, it's Thailand's most famous island for several reasons. The beach-fringed coast is edged with vivid, blue water that's a surf-and-sand playground for snorkelling, scuba diving, kayaking, building sandcastles and simply lounging. Along with busy food stalls and restaurants where you can find a whole world of cuisine made with local produce and fresh seafood as well as authentic Thai dishes, the lively streets are lined with bars, boutiques, markets and spas.

By contrast, the island's interior can provide moments of reflection and replenishing solitude. Enter the dense, hilly jungles for hikes to ancient temples and pristine waterfalls and quaint villages where you can experience true Thai hospitality.

With dreamy landscapes and island adventures from boat excursions to nature treks, you'll soon be enchanted by Koh Samui.

Please note: This port is accessed by tender boats. Boarding and disembarking tender boats may involve steps and uneven surfaces. While cruise lines strive to provide ease of access, accessibility options can vary at different tender ports. Passengers with mobility concerns are encouraged to inquire about specific arrangements and consider their individual needs when participating in tendering activities.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 17 Cruising (New Year's Day)

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 18 Malacca, Malaysia

Arrive: 13:00 - Depart: 21:00

Tendered

Like Penang's charming capital, George Town, Malacca (often Melaka) earned UNESCO World Heritage Site status for its remarkable history as a meeting place of East and West. For more than four centuries, Malacca was ruled by a series of European powers—first the Portuguese, then the Dutch and finally the British - as well as by Japan, for a brief period of three years during World War II. Malacca has also been an important international trading port for hundreds of years - exactly why so many empires were keen to get their hands on it. The result of centuries of trade is a city that reflects a variety of European and Asian influences.

In just one day in Malacca, you can visit Malaysia's oldest church, St. Paul's, constructed by the Portuguese; the country's oldest Chinatown; and Stadthuys, the onetime city hall and the oldest Dutch building in Southeast Asia. When it's time to eat, opt for fusion cuisine nonpareil, nyonya - the food of Chinese settlers in Malaysia; a flawless English afternoon tea service; or spicy Indian fare.

The Itinerary

Clichéd as it may sound, Malacca is literally a feast for the eyes and the mouth. To sightsee, eat and shop your way around this Malaysian city is to trace its rich, tumultuous history from the 15th century right up to the present day.

Please note: This port is accessed by tender boats. Boarding and disembarking tender boats may involve steps and uneven surfaces. While cruise lines strive to provide ease of access, accessibility options can vary at different tender ports. Passengers with mobility concerns are encouraged to inquire about specific arrangements and consider their individual needs when participating in tendering activities.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 19 Port Klang (Kuala Lumpur), Malaysia
Arrive: 07:00 - Depart: 17:00

As you travel from Port Klang to Malaysia's capital, Kuala Lumpur, 55 kilometres to the northeast, it can be hard to believe that the city with a skyline of soaring towers was a small mining town for much of the 19th century. That changed beginning in 1880, when the British moved the capital of Malaya here. Yap Ah Loy - a Chinese-born emigre who rose from miner to political titan - and British politician Frank Swettenham were crucial in turning KL (as it's often called) into a true city. Their program of improvements, including establishing Kuala Lumpur's first school and building a number of roads, continues to this day. For more than a century, Kuala Lumpur has been determined to become bigger and better.

For all its focus on the future, Kuala Lumpur has preserved some rich historic architecture, including the cheerful Art Deco Central Market, the Mughal-style Old Railway Station and the Tudor Revival Royal Selangor Club. These colonial-era buildings contrast nicely with newer structures, among them the gleaming Petronas Towers, whose design is based on motifs found in Islamic art, and the National Museum, inspired by Malay imperial palaces.

Eating is practically a national pastime in Malaysia, and Kuala Lumpur has some of the country's top restaurants. You shouldn't leave without enjoying a meal of delicious Southeast Asian, Chinese or Peranakan (a Malay-Chinese fusion) dishes.

Overnight: Holland America Line's Noordam
Meals included: Breakfast; Lunch; Dinner

Day 21 Singapore
Enjoy a day at leisure in Singapore.

City-states are rare in the present day - and none are quite like Singapore. In the 20th century, the Southeast Asian nation hurtled itself into the modern world, and it continues to expand its state-of-the-art transportation system and build its edgy skyline. Yet Singapore's urban plan wisely maintained its intimate neighbourhoods, many with streets lined with colourful shophouses (a type of building unique to parts of Asia, with businesses located on their ground floors and residences above). Add the city's mix of ethnic groups - mainly Malays, Chinese and Indians - and you get a vibrant cultural scene that attracts a cosmopolitan, international community.

Singapore's food scene - which is arguably the world's most dynamic and runs the gamut from beloved street hawkers to Michelin-starred venues - would merit a trip alone, as would its never-ending shopping options. But the city is also packed with world-class museums, many designed by celebrated architects, and it hosts many major international events, such as the Formula One Grand Prix. Yet only about half of the 720-square-kilometre island is developed, which leaves plenty of room for parks and open spaces such as the Bukit Timah Nature Reserve, where an old-growth forest still thrives.

Other Important Information

TOUR GUIDE VS. TOUR LEADER

Tour Guide:

Often locals with intimate knowledge of an area, its culture, and history. Their role entails providing commentary, routing the tour, and seeing that people have a good time. They are a licensed, qualified expert who supplies specific information on the history, art, architecture and culture of the city/village/attraction where they are guiding the tour. The guide meets the group at the required place and leaves it at the end of the tour; they do not travel with the group.

Tour Leader:

An experienced person tasked with ensuring the smooth operation of tours, as well as providing practical support to passengers throughout the whole trip. Their role primarily includes assisting with accommodation, transportation between locations, and communication with tour guides at each stop. A tour leader may provide general guidance around a city or village and offer information on the place visited on the bus. However, they are not required to have specific art, architecture, or historical knowledge. They are not allowed to provide a guided tour or commentary of a city/village/attraction once there and, if caught doing so, can be fined.

Please note: Tour leaders/guides are not a standard inclusion in all travel offers. Tour leaders/guides will only be made available when required to enhance the experience of the destination featured.

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Hong Kong

In December and January, Hong Kong experiences its winter, which is generally mild, dry, and very pleasant. This is the coolest and least humid time of the year, with average daily temperatures around 18°C, highs reaching about 20°C, and lows dropping to 15°C. Rainfall is minimal, resulting in many clear, sunny days perfect for hiking and exploring the city without the intense heat of other seasons. However, it's wise to pack layers, including a jacket or sweater, as evenings and occasional cold fronts can be quite cool.

Vietnam

In December and January, the weather across Vietnam remains highly varied by region, marking the peak of the tourist season in both the north and south. In the north, including Hanoi and Halong Bay, it is the middle of a cool and dry winter. Expect clear skies, but average temperatures can drop to around 17°C, with cooler evenings and mornings, so packing warm layers is essential. In contrast, Central Vietnam, including Da Nang and Hoi An, is transitioning out of its rainy season. While December can still see significant rainfall, conditions improve through January with less rain and more sunshine. Meanwhile, the south, including Ho Chi Minh City, is in its prime dry season, offering hot, sunny days, low humidity, and minimal rainfall. Average temperatures range from 23°C to 32°C, creating perfect conditions for travel.

Thailand

In December and January, much of Thailand enjoys its peak dry season, offering some of the best weather of the year, though conditions differ on the Gulf Coast. In Bangkok, the north, and on the Andaman coast (including Phuket and Krabi), the weather is fantastic. Expect comfortable temperatures with low humidity and plenty of sunshine, with average highs around 31°C. In contrast, the Gulf of Thailand coast (including Koh Samui) is coming to the end of its monsoon season. December can still see notable rainfall, but conditions improve significantly as January progresses, with less rain and more sunshine.

Singapore

In December and January, Singapore is Important Information

deep into its wettest period, the peak of the Northeast Monsoon season. December is often the rainiest month of the year, with January following closely behind. Visitors should expect frequent and heavy afternoon thunderstorms, though there are still periods of sunshine. Despite the rain, temperatures remain consistently hot and humidity is at its highest, with average highs around 30°C and lows of about 24°C. While outdoor plans can be disrupted, this is an excellent time to explore Singapore's world-class indoor attractions.

Visas

Hong Kong

Australian passport holders are visa exempt for a stay of up to 90 days. The traveller must hold a passport valid at least six months on entry with two blank visa pages

Vietnam

Australian passport holders are eligible to apply online for a single or multi entry electronic visa (e-visa), valid for up to a maximum of 90 days.
Lodge your application online (for a non-refundable fee) with the Vietnamese National Web Portal of Immigration https://www.xuatnhapcanh.gov.vn/. You will be given a unique code to track your visa application status. Once your visa is granted, you must print it out and present it at check in. Keep this e-visa print out with you at all times during your travel in Vietnam.
Some private online visa services and travel agents have scammed travellers or been involved in the public disclosure of the personal information of applicants for visas and 'visa issued on arrival' approval letters. To avoid such scams, only use official Government of Vietnam services to arrange your visa. Visa and other entry and exit conditions (such as currency, customs and quarantine regulations) change regularly. Contact the nearest Embassy or Consulate of Vietnam for up-to-date information.

Thailand

If you're visiting Thailand for tourism or short-term travel, you may be able to get a visa exemption (visa-free travel). You may only be allowed to enter Thailand on 2 visa-free entries each calendar year if you don't have a justifiable reason.
Your passport must be valid for more than 6 months before entering. Be ready to show proof of your accommodation in Thailand, enough funds for your stay and your onward or return flight ticket. You may be refused entry if you can't show these documents.
You must complete a Thailand Digital Arrival Card (TDAC) within 3 days before arriving in Thailand. The TDAC is free of charge and must be submitted online through the Thailand Immigration Bureau website. Beware of fake websites charging you a fee for the TDAC.
If you require an E-Visa, you can apply through the Official Thai E-Visa website. You can only apply if you're currently not in Thailand and in a country where E-visa services are available. You're no longer required to submit your passports and supporting documents in person at the Royal Thai Embassy/Consulate-General. After your E-Visa application has been approved, you'll receive a confirmation email, which you can print and show to airlines and Thai immigration officials when entering Thailand.
You must get an entry stamp from an immigration officer at the point of entry into Thailand. Don't get your visa, visa extension or entry stamp from visa shops or travel agents in Thailand.

Cambodia

For Australian and New Zealand passport holders to enter Cambodia you'll need a visa. You can apply for an e-visa online through the Cambodian Government's official portal www.evisa.gov.kh (processing time is 3 - 5 days) or through an embassy or consulate of Cambodia. Alternatively, you can get a tourist visa on arrival.
Effective July 1, 2024, the paper arrival/departure card, health document, and customs form will be replaced by the electronic E-arrival card. All travellers are required to submit the Cambodia e-Arrival Card within 7 days before their arrival. See https://www.arrival.gov.kh/ for more information

- Visa rules are subject to change. Please check with the nearest embassy, consulate or immigration department of the destination/s you are visiting once you receive your travel documentation to ensure you have the most up to date information.
- It is your responsibility to be travel-ready and ensure that you are aware and comply with any destination or travel requirements, including the validity of all required travel documents.
- Passengers who are not Australian citizens must also check with the respective consulate or visa agency to determine what their visa requirements are and what personal identification is required.
